PowerPoint's Flash Point

Making the journey to a
Flash-based presentation

RICHARD HARRINGTON

Adobe Flash has become a ubiquitous technology. Spend a bit of time on the web and you'll find it used for interactive and dynamic content. In this session you'll learn how to harness Flash in several ways, both inside and outside your presentations. Topics to include:

- Adding a vector SWF or Flash video file to your presentation
- Export your content to Flash file using FlashPoint
- Create enriched e-learning presentations using Adobe Present

This session is for those looking for new ways to publish their presentation for sharing. It will also cover how you can use Flash files in your presentation to enrich them with multimedia assets.
