

Set Yourself on Fire!

Tracking the energy flow of a successful presentation

EMMA BANNISTER

Have you ever thought of the energy flow of a presentation, the learning styles involved and the techniques to help transform that energy into meaningful messages? In this presentation we will literally graph the energy flow of a presentation and show how effective PowerPoint and delivery techniques can transform personal energy into presentation success. In the ultimate blend of the ephemeral with the linear, this session will take something as abstract as personal energy and plot it on a graph. Topics to include:

- Discovering where energy ebbs and flows
- Understanding “pitch and gesture,” and “movement and stasis”
- How your own energy determines when and how you deliver your core message

This session is for those who want to better understand how physical energy relates to interpersonal communication.